

Ensuring Social Distancing for Safe Office Re-Entry

Gain actionable insights into space usage and track adherence to social distancing guidelines as employees resume in-office collaboration.

ENSURE SAFE RE-ENTRY PLANS

Use data on how employees collaborate to identify meetings or spaces that exceed safe occupancy, and create more space by clearing unused room bookings.

AID CONTACT TRACING

Identify invitees for meetings with known exposure to proactively aid contact tracing.

ESTABLISH SANITATION PROTOCOLS

Determine highest trafficked spaces to prioritize room decontamination and deep cleaning, and confirm people presence in spaces during regular night shift cleaning rounds.

Success Story: Vyopta is key to Return to Office plan

“It used to be about using data to maximize ROI and cram people into spaces. Now we still want ROI, but we need data not only for that but to also make sure people are safe!”

- Set up new occupancy limits to monitor safe space capacity
- Track areas of concern if outbreak occurs
- Ensure compliance with preventative guidelines
- Avoid $1M building cleanup cost if employee has COVID-19
- Identify and address those in non-compliance
- Leverage existing in-room endpoints with sensors
- Provide reports for corporate compliance, governance
